

December 15, 2005

CHARLOTTESVILLE– The Robert Redd, LLC website, www.robertredd.com, is more secure than ever. REDD's site features all of the 2004-2005 offerings from Robert Redd, LLC and offers curious web travelers a history behind and insight into the life of Robert Redd. Not only can visitors purchase the exquisitely crafted REDD knit shirts, they can also discover the source of inspiration for Robert Redd, LLC.

As exciting as Robert Redd's personal adventures, this newly secure site is definitely worth the trip. Classically designed and simple to navigate, the site allows the visitor to shop securely and safely online, all while doing it in great style.

Robert Redd, LLC excels in creating, designing, and producing the most unique consumer products. Notably, the initial Redd® products were fine gentleman's knits. The products are comprised of the finest materials, matched with unique colors and are intelligently conceived so that both the products and brand appeal to the gentleman or lady with the highest personal regard for his or her wardrobe.

The legend of Robert Redd™, tracing back to before the turn of the century, was founded on a love of both adventure and of the finer things in life. Robert Redd, LLC continues to evolve holding true to the most defining characteristics of its original inspiration, especially those derived from his family's motto, "Extend Love, 'Tis what you truly are". Many more colorful adventures exist and once properly researched, will be reported faithfully by Robert Redd, LLC.

For more information, send an email to info@robertredd.com, or call 434-979-9191.