

February 5, 2007

CHARLOTTESVILLE—Robert Redd, LLC is pleased to extend your favorite stories and timeless apparel to a much younger generation with its new 2007 line, now available for purchase. The new line, branded Master Redd, is available in the same classic color combinations and distinguished styles as the Gentleman's line, but is cut to suit the active pursuits of a mischievous, young gentleman.

The legend of Robert Redd™, tracing back to before the turn of the century, was founded on a love of both adventure and of the finer things in life. Robert Redd, LLC continues to evolve holding true to the most defining characteristics of its original inspiration, especially those derived from his family's motto, "Extend Love, 'Tis what you truly are". Many more colorful adventures exist and once properly researched, will be reported faithfully by Robert Redd, LLC.

For more information, send an email to info@robertredd.com, or call 434-979-9191.