

May 1, 2008

CHARLOTTESVILLE– Robert Redd takes the Wild West by storm with stops in Texas, Wyoming, Colorado, and California. The west with a plethora of discerning customers looking for only the best products available. The west coast is famous for its exclusive, intimate selection of premium retailers who truly represent the top tier, REDD's products will doubtlessly have a commendable showing at new boutiques in these locations.

Never one to turn down an opportunity for adventure or a lively soiree, Robert Redd would certainly have enjoyed himself among the cowboys and showgirls. There is no doubt the classic, knit shirts will be similarly well received.

Robert Redd, LLC excels in crafting fine gentlemen's and ladies' apparel, with a chief concern for unerring quality and timeless style. The products are comprised of the finest materials, matched with unique colors and are intelligently conceived so that both the products and brand appeal to the gentleman or lady with the highest personal regard for his or her wardrobe.

The legend of Robert Redd™, tracing back to before the turn of the century, was founded on a love of both adventure and of the finer things in life. Robert Redd, LLC continues to evolve holding true to the most defining characteristics of its original inspiration, especially those derived from his family's motto, "Extend Love, 'Tis what you truly are". Many more colorful adventures exist and once properly researched, will be reported faithfully by Robert Redd, LLC.

For more information, send an email to info@robertredd.com, or call 434-979-9191.