

October 6, 2006

CHARLOTTESVILLE– Robert Redd, LLC has revamped its flagship store to provide a more respectable setting for the attractive array of Gentlemen’s and Ladies’ products. The new store features more dazzling display cases and handsome steamer trunks that more effectively showcase the distinguished lines. In this revised space, a trip to the store feels more like a visit to the home of an old friend, namely Robert Redd.

A well-styled selection of REDD shirts and accessories are displayed enticingly in the store windows, which let in ample, warm light as refreshing as the REDD color combinations. The charming, green carpeting and classic leather furniture complete the truly comforting and stylish atmosphere.

Robert Redd, LLC excels in creating, designing, and producing the most unique consumer products. Notably, the initial Redd® products were fine gentleman’s knits. The products are comprised of the finest materials, matched with unique colors and are intelligently conceived so that both the products and brand appeal to the gentleman or lady with the highest personal regard for his or her wardrobe.

The legend of Robert Redd™, tracing back to before the turn of the century, was founded on a love of both adventure and of the finer things in life. Robert Redd, LLC continues to evolve holding true to the most defining characteristics of its original inspiration, especially those derived from his family’s motto, “Extend Love, ‘Tis what you truly are”. Many more colorful adventures exist and once properly researched, will be reported faithfully by Robert Redd, LLC.

For more information, send an email to info@robertredd.com, or call 434-979-9191.